Rogerson Communities Awarded Boston Foundation
“My Neighborhood: Boston” Grant

ROSLINDALE, MA – Rogerson Communities was awarded a Boston Foundation “My Neighborhood: Boston” grant at the Boston Foundation’s 2009 Annual Meeting. This award is designated for general purposes and will help fund Rogerson’s 26 properties and programs that support low-income elders and their families.

Rogerson Board of Directors member Rulla Tamimi, an epidemiologist and assistant professor at Harvard Medical School, accepted the award on Rogerson’s behalf. Tamimi, a Roslindale resident, said, “We are thrilled with the Boston Foundation support – to be recognized by such an esteemed organization is an honor. The Boston Foundation is a true civic leader and supporter of non-profits, and we are in very good company as a recipient of this My Neighborhood: Boston grant.”

Rogerson Communities is a creator of innovative health services and housing solutions for the elderly and low income for close to 150 years. Rogerson serves more than 1,500 families throughout the Greater Boston area, with housing, health care, innovative fitness programs, nutritious meals, and adult day health programs in 26 facilities and programs and reaches many more through educational opportunities.
